Question 24: Do you have any other comments on module 5?

Where a grant is received for the payment of wages of a specific role, many charities recognise the grant immediately, even though the relevant staff member was funded partly before and partly after the year end. Many other charities defer the amount that relates to after the year end, on the grounds that they could not realistically choose to spend it earlier. It would be great if the SORP came down on one side or the other of this - even big accountancy firms disagree about it.

Question 42: Do you have any other comments on the Exposure Draft SORP?

The ED SORP removes the option for charities not to value stock of donated goods for distribution to beneficiaries in their accounts, on the grounds of cost and practicality. We act for two charities that receive donations of baby wear that are distributed to beneficiaries. Goods are valued on a second hand basis when they are distributed. There would be a huge extra cost of they had to be valued on receipt and if stock takes had to be done - we as auditors would have to attend stock takes in several locations at different warehouses. The stock is not really countable as it is so varied. I cannot see the value in forcing these charities to do this - who is being helped? The funders want to know the value of goods donated, and that is clearly provided by both clients.
